

Claims

1. A table parlour game particularly a turbo-bowling comprising a turbo player unit (1), bowling pins (2) and a lane plate tilting to any direction (3).
2. A table parlour game of claim 1 wherein the turbo player unit (1) is a whirling top, namely a conical solid of rotation, the plate (1/a) of which is shaped to have a regular hexagonal pattern and furthermore equipped with a rotating tail (1/b) and tip (1/c).
3. A table parlour game of claim 1 or 2 wherein the lane plate (3) is equipped by setting device (4) comprising centrally attached globe head (4/a) and globe shell (4/b).
4. A table parlour game of claim 4 wherein an anti-skidding rubber slab (4/c) is bonded to the bottom surface of the globe shell (4/b).
5. Turbo-bowling of claim 1 wherein the shape of the lane (3) is rectangular.
6. Turbo-bowling of claim 5 wherein the length of the lane plate (3) is three times of its width.
7. Turbo-bowling of claims 5 and 6 wherein the arrangement of starting cycles (5) and pin-stands (7) are identical and the longitudinal axis of lane plate (3) is symmetrical, furthermore the middle points of the neighbouring starting cycles (5) and the middle points of the pin-stands (7) are in equal distance from each other.
8. Turbo-bowling of any of claims from 5 to 7 wherein the starting line (6) is located in the first third section of lane plate (3).